HAZELTON PIANO

Read what the President of the United States and others say of this Justly Celebrated Piano:

President Harrison Says:
Dear Sir:—I am no musician myself, but my wife and daughter are, who regard the Hazelton Piano as in every respect satisfactory, and they say they could not desire a better instrument.
BENJAMIN HARRISON.

The Hon. John C. New Says:
Dear Sir:—It affords me great pleasure to say that the Hazelton Bros. Piano, purchased some nine years ago, has given perfect satisfaction in every respect. We have had instruments of other celebrated makes in our house, but none of them proved so satisfactory as the one now in use.
JNO. C. NEW.

Mrs. Jos. E. McDonald, Wife of Ex-Senator McDonald, Says:
Dear Sir:—I give me pleasure to testify to the excellence, in every respect, of the beautiful Hazelton Upright Piano which I purchased from you. The instrument certainly possesses all the qualities combined, which constitute a thoroughly perfect piano, making it an instrument to be desired by every lover of music.
MRS. JOS. E. McDONALD.

The remarkable wearing qualities of the celebrated HAZELTON PIANOS are such, that after ten or fifteen years of use, they show so little signs of wear, and retain their first full, rich, quality of tone, to such a wonderful extent, that they are readily mistaken for new pianos. They are fully warranted for Ten Years, just twice as long as any other first-class piano. Beautiful new styles for 1889 just received, cases in mahogany, walnut, oak and rosewood, beautiful hand-carved panels. One stock of Pianos and Organs is so large and complete, and our low prices and easy terms are such that no family need be without an instrument.

NEW PENSION COMMISSIONER

Gen. Green B. Raum Named by the President to Succeed Corporal Tanner.

The Appointment Creates Surprise, but Is Regarded as a Popular One, Even the Ex-Commissioner Heartily Indorsing It.

Dilemma of the Maritime Conference Regarding a Stenographer—How a Claim Agent Lost a Big Fee—Bond Purchases.

TANNER'S SUCCESSOR.

Gen. Green B. Raum Appointed Commissioner of Pensions—A Popular Man. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—President Harrison made to-day what promises to be one of his most popular appointments. It was that of General Green B. Raum, of Illinois, to succeed Corporal Tanner as Commissioner of Pensions. The selection was officially announced at 10 o'clock this morning, and up to late to-night not a single unfavorable word has been uttered against it by any one. General Raum combines all the necessary attributes to make a most excellent and satisfactory Commissioner. He was a splendid soldier of the Gen. John A. Logan class. He is a popular G. A. R. man. He is a splendid lawyer, familiar with not only the laws, but the rules and practices of the Pension office. He for two terms occupied the office of Commissioner of Internal Revenue, and displayed rare executive ability. General Raum goes into the office better equipped in every way than any of his predecessors. He has no hobbies, no prejudices. His organization of the internal revenue branch of the Treasury Department was perfect, and it was only necessary for President Harrison to be reminded of his administration of that office, and the fact that he would accept the commission of pensions, to induce action.

The first mention of General Raum's name for the commission of pensions was, probably, made by Senator Mitchell, of Oregon. It was almost three weeks ago. Passing the bureau of the Journal, the Senator stepped inside and said: "If I were President Harrison, I would send for Gen. Green B. Raum of Illinois, and induce him, if possible, to take hold of the Pension Office. He is the best man for it in the country. It has just occurred to me, and I am going straight to the White House and make the suggestion."

This the Senator did, and there is no doubt that the talk and others the Senator had with public men, who made further suggestions at the executive mansion, led to the appointment. Senator Mitchell is naturally elated to-night.

Ex-Commissioner Tanner said to your correspondent, as soon as he heard of the appointment: "It is the best selection that could have been made. General Raum was a gallant soldier, a good man, a true lawyer, with liberal views on the subject of pensions, and I am satisfied he will do all he can for pensioners."

General Raum, Colonel Odella and other local G. A. R. men spoke in the same terms of General Raum, while Representatives Harrows, of Michigan, and Anderson, of Kansas, for Gen. Raum. The requirements of the sinking fund for present fiscal year estimated at $48,000,000, have been met by bond purchases since July 1, to within $2,000,000 of the required amount.

Chili's Friendly Act.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Assistant Secretary Batchelor said yesterday afternoon that the action of Chili in placing imported machinery, agricultural implements, tools, copper, iron and other things on the free list was a most friendly act. "It opens up," he added, "a fine market for our products, and if we are prompt to avail ourselves of the opportunity it will be of immense value to us. Of course there is a selfish motive in all these things, and Chili's motive is to encourage progress and development, but I have no doubt she was inspired also by a friendly feeling toward us."

Receipts from Internal Revenue.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The total receipts from internal revenue during the first quarter of the present fiscal year were $34,694,536, or $3,770,807 greater than the receipts of the corresponding period of the preceding fiscal year. If the receipts increased at this rate during the remainder of the year, the total receipts for 1889-90 would be about $145,000,000, or $14,000,000 more than the receipts during the previous year.

Two New Indiana Postmasters.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The President has appointed the following postmasters: John H. Dendon, at Aurora, Ind., vice F. H. Gibson, removed, and W. B. Ellis, at Washington, Ind., vice Stephen Belding, resigned.

General Notes.
Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Miss Eliza Massey, of Vincennes, is visiting Mrs. A. S. Taber, of L Street.

The President and Mrs. Harrison have enjoyed a comparatively quiet week at the White House. Both are in excellent health and spirits. They ride out every fine afternoon. Yesterday, Assistant Postmaster-General Clark accompanied the President and Mrs. Harrison entertained the President and Mrs. Harrison at the White House. The President and Mrs. Harrison were accompanied by the President and Mrs. Harrison.

The State Department to-day transmitted to Portugal President Harrison's expression of condolence over the death of the King of Portugal this morning.

Dr. Willoughby Walling, of Indiana, until recently United States consul at Edinburg, was at the State Department to-day settling his accounts.

The President to-day appointed Capt. Francis M. Kamsay Chief of the Bureau of Navigation of the Navy Department, vice Captain John G. Walker, George E. Neal, of Missouri, to be United States District Attorney for the Western district of Missouri.

It is reported that the President contemplated appointing James M. Gregory, one of the colored professors of Harvard University, to be Recorder of Deeds for the District of Columbia.

Gas Struck in Eastern Illinois.
Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

MATTOON, Oct. 19.—Natural gas and lots of it was struck at the well drilling near this city, to-day. The gas was reached at a depth of only one hundred feet, and has been temporarily piped out from the derrick as a precaution for safety. The work of drilling a three-thousand-foot hole will then proceed in the twelve-inch pipe through which the gas now escapes. Property values advanced 20 per cent. to-day.

Forger Arrested.
Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

SULLIVAN, Ind., Oct. 19.—Hugh L. Sherwood, of Shelby, Ind., was arrested to-day, charged with forging his father-in-law's name to a note for $200. He is in the hands of officers, trying to give bail. He failed in business about a year ago and left the country, but lately turned up and was arrested as above.

Bank Swindler Convicted.
Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

URBANA, Ill., Oct. 19.—The jury in the case of Samuel S. Ford, the bank forger, this evening brought in a verdict of guilty, and awarded the term of imprisonment at ten years.

Raum was eminently fitted for the position. Postmaster Sexton said that there was no man better equipped for the place, and that he was an organizer possessed of business ability, rare tact and a very wide acquaintance.

A STENOGRAPHER WANTED.
One Who Can Report in French, English and Various Other Languages.

SPECIAL TO THE INDIANAPOLIS JOURNAL.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Unless a stenographer who is capable of wielding polyglot short-hand is found very soon, there will be a serious delay in the beginning of the International Maritime Conference. Up to this time it has been impossible to find a man who can write French, English and various other languages stenographically, who is willing to take the proceedings of the Congress for less than $8,000. Only $30,000 were appropriated by Congress to defray the expenses of the conference, and if nearly half this amount is to be taken for simply the stenographic work there will be a discrepancy somewhere. Secretary Blaine has asked the official stenographer of the House of Representatives to find a capable man, but he was told that if such a man is found he would have to be paid as much as $8,000 for the work. The lowest bid received so far for a single man's work was $60 a day, and he was not considered competent, and employment refused. Unless a man is found within the next four or five days the proceedings of the conference will be greatly retarded.

MINOR MATTERS.
Letter from the President, Indorsing the Work of Reforming Boys and Girls.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The President has written a letter to the chairman of the Boys' and Girls' National Home and Employment Association, in which he says: "I have read, with great interest, the address presented to me this morning by the committee of the Boys' and Girls' National Home and Employment Association, now in session in this city. The object of the association have my warmest sympathy. They should have the intelligent support of the national Congress and the State legislatures in the appropriate sphere of each. What is done to promote patriotism and good citizenship in the neglected classes, must be done before the habits of vice and pauperism have become settled."

How a Claim Agent Lost $22,000.

SPECIAL TO THE INDIANAPOLIS JOURNAL.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—A prominent claim agent in Washington is just now mourning the absence of $22,000, and all on account of his lack of faith in a single Indian. For many years he represented a large claim before the Interior Department, and a representative of the tribe came to Washington to ascertain how matters were getting along. He happened to run short of funds and asked the lawyer to loan him $100. This was rather out of the attorney's line, and he failed to do it. The Indian said nothing, but called upon the late Congressman E. John Ellis, and transferred the case into his hands. Ellis did nothing but secure the insertion of his name as the attorney of record on the files of the Interior Department. A few days later he dropped dead. The claim was allowed, and the executor of the Ellis estate have received $22,000 as their share of the award.

Savings in Purchase of Bonds.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The following is a statement of United States bonds purchased from Aug. 3, 1887, to, and including Oct. 19, 1889: Amount purchased of four, $87,946,700; of four-and-one-half, $129,338,200; total, $210,884,900. Cost of four, $112,620,265.03; of four-and-one-half, $132,878,442.47; total, $245,496,707.50. Cost to maturity of four, $153,774,114; of four-and-one-half, $139,386,682.09; total, $293,160,796.09. Saving of four, $41,158,845.97; of four-and-one-half, $6,510,240.22; total, $47,669,086.19. The requirements of the sinking fund for present fiscal year estimated at $48,000,000, have been met by bond purchases since July 1, to within $2,000,000 of the required amount.

AT SOUTH BEND.

The City, Its Modest People, and Its Mammoth Manufacturing Establishments.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE INDIANAPOLIS JOURNAL.
SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 19.—The gentlemen representing South and Central America, who have dropped diplomatic and commercial deliberation to find in an extended itinerary of what has been told them regarding the resources of the greater America, received their first impressions of Indiana in this city. South Bend in the column of population does not figure largely, and her citizens, proud as they are of her achievements, modestly refer to it as a country town. They talk about their Mayor, uniformed police and all the details that enter into a city government, but they are not as pretentious as they have a right to be. But when one inquires about the city's resources he pleases them, for they like to tell about them, but not unduly so. The South Bend man is not ostentatious. He knows what his city is worth as a manufacturing center, if not one of population, and if one should doubt his assertions about her having the largest plow works and the most extensive plow factory in the world, with a clover-huller and sewing-machine manufactory of like degree, he is content to give the proof in offering to secure the inquirer admission to those immense establishments. With these alone South Bend would be worth visiting, but she has a line of diversified industries excelled in number only by Indianapolis. It is claimed that the capital city has a little less than double the manufacturing establishments of South Bend, which, in this respect, ranks second in the State. But the hum of machinery and pounding of hammer do not limit the attractiveness and interest a visitor can find in this city on the St. Joseph. Streets are wide and well kept, and the long line of autumn-tinted trees found everywhere, except in the part exclusively used for business, tells of the summer beauty these thoroughfares possess. Then, too, the residences, whether occupied by manufacturer or workman, by merchant or clerk, give proof of the thrift, taste and enterprise that pervade the place. Lawns well cared for and adorned are the rule, instead of the exception, one is apt to find in most towns the size of South Bend.

It was not the purpose at first to let the American gentlemen from south of the equator, on their journey, stop at any city in the United States of less population than 50,000, but South Bend had the distinction of having one of her leading and most active citizens, Mr. Clem Studebaker, in the Three-Americas Congress. When the journeying was planned, Mr. Studebaker, knowing what his city had to offer in pleasing and interesting people who knew but little of Indiana's resources, insisted on South Bend being put on the list. He told those who had charge of the matter that while his city could not by thirty thousand reach the population required for this special distinction, it had other things to commend it to students and observers of the country's greatness. He enumerated South Bend's principal industries and made his urging stronger by stating a fact, but little known, that the city turns out more manufactured products than any other city in the country. That settled the question in favor of South Bend, and the culmination to-day of plans to mark the visit of the distinguished foreigners, was the arrival of the delegates to the hospitality without becoming tiresome. Especial attention was given to limiting speech-making to what properly alone demanded. The visitors from the two other Americas, no doubt, felt as did Kossuth after having gone through the United States method of paying tribute to distinction. He reached a certain city in his travels, and there, as he was captured by the usual reception committee. The chairman delivered his oration, and Kossuth responded somewhat irritably. After the speech, the delegates had been taken down the country in their travels can say: "It has been committees, committees, but no rest." Yet they find it not to be otherwise, that gratified the attention of the South Bend committee. It was that quiet, engaging hospitality shown that allows one to carry away pleasant impressions, and that would art around the world that makes one know "all the world's a stage."

The Delegates and What They Saw.

The visitors proved early risers this morning, having arrived here from Grand Rapids during the night, and the absence of the usual banquet having enabled the weary delegates to retire early and secure a good night's rest. Breakfast was eaten in the dining-room car, and, soon after 8 o'clock they were received by Mayor Longley and the committee, of which he was the head. The committee consisted, besides the mayor, of Alex. Coquilhard, J. M. Studebaker, Joseph D. Oliver, J. Ben Birdsell, Leighton Pine, A. Eberhart, C. B. Van Pelt, E. E. Reynolds, George W. Baker, Rev. Father Lamm, George M. Studebaker, J. B. Stoll, Alf. B. Miller, John R. Hanchton, Schuyler Colfax, Geo. Ford and G. O'Brien. The reception was merely an informal welcome, and it was not long before the visitors and entertainers were in carriages, and the drive began, headed by a tall-ho coach bearing some of the more adventurous young attachés, who seemed to enjoy the footing of the trumpet.

The party numbered sixty-five, including attaches of the excursion and correspondents. Every two delegates had a South Bend man to escort them. The visitors were seated in carriages, in the following order: Argentine Republic—Attache, Juan S. Atwell; consul-general, Delfo B. R. R. Bolivia—Attache, Juan F. Velarde; secretary, Melchor O. Barrio; attachés, Alcides Nolasco, Mariano Sclaire. Brazil—Attache, Carlos Silveira Martins. Chili—Attache, Jose Alfonso; secretaries, Carlos Stanart, Paula Alfonso. Colombia—Attache, Carlos Martinez Silva; consul-general, Gerardo Martinez; attachés, Martin Alfonso and Joaquin Bernardo Calvo. Ecuador—Attache, Jose Mann; consul-general, U. R. Gull; attachés, Echeverria, Guatemala—Attache, Fernando Cruz. Domingo Estrada; attachés, Javier A. Arroyo. Honduras—Attache, Gerardo Zelaya; secretaries, E. Constantino Fiallos, Richard Villafra. Mexico—Secretaries, R. Mayorga, Adolf M. Jica Y. Sayago; delegate, Horacio Guzman.
